It is our pleasure to welcome your student and you to our Islander family. We hope your transition is as smooth as possible. During the Islander Launch event, you will learn many helpful tips, and nuggets of wisdom. This pamphlet is designed to gather some of those bits of information in one place for you.

Your Islander’s job in this transition time is to embrace the new beginnings as they navigate their way through their college journey. Your job is to coach them through that journey. We are here to support both your student and you through this time of change and at times... uncertainty.

The Division of Student Engagement and Success is home to many of the student services and activities that will help your Islander connect to the TAMU-CC campus and gain skills outside the classroom that will aid in their final goal upon graduation... Getting the Job!

Within our departments, your Islander will find the offices of:

- Career Services
- Dean of Students
- Disability Services
- Engagement Initiatives
- Housing
- Recreational Sports
- Student Activities
- Student Conduct & Community Standards
- University Center
- University Counseling Center
- University Health Center

These offices are here to assist your student on their path to graduation.

Please know that we are here to offer advice, answer questions about TAMU-CC, and help you guide your student as they become actively engaged in their new home here at the Island University. To stay connected, we encourage you to visit the campus and perhaps take in a campus speaker, performance, sporting event, or celebration. In any case, be sure to stay in touch with your student — email, text, hand-written notes, and other reminders — to let them know that you are there to support them. We are here to support your student and you as a parent or family member.

Congratulations on helping your student to this point. We know you are proud of them and all they have accomplished. We are honored they have chosen to become Islanders here at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi!

Sincerely,

Dr. Don D. Albrecht
Vice President for Student Engagement and Success
Disability Services coordinates services and accommodations designed to meet the unique educational needs of enrolled students with documented permanent or temporary disabilities. For information on accommodations visit: disabilityservices.tamucc.edu

The University Health Center is dedicated to the total well-being of your student. The Health Center treats acute injuries and illness and provides general health exams. They also offer vaccinations and screenings. There is a 24 “Ask a Nurse” phone line available for consultation. Encourage your student to visit the University Health Center or visit healthcenter.tamucc.edu

Career Services offers a variety of tools to help throughout your Islander’s journey. Students can utilize self-assessment tools to identify strengths and interests. Career Services can also help students get part-time jobs, develop their resume, prepare for interviews, attend career fairs, and connect to employers for on- and off-campus jobs and internships. Visit them at: career-services.tamucc.edu

The University Counseling Center is another resource available to support your student’s well-being and develop life skills. Students can talk to a counselor in a confidential setting regarding a range of topics. Free workshops and group sessions are also available. Topics include: overcoming procrastination, stress management, communication, and healthy relationship building. For a full list of services, visit: counseling.tamucc.edu

Student Life: Going to class and studying tops every college student’s (and parent’s) priority list. However, there is much more to an Islander education than just labs and lectures. TAMU-CC offers over a hundred recognized student organizations, an active fraternity & sorority community, club sports, intramurals, volunteer and leadership opportunities, and much more. Employers say that they want college graduates who can communicate well, think critically, work in a team, and display leadership characteristics. Campus activities allow students the chance to develop these sought after skills. Encourage your student to explore their interests, try new things, meet new people and to get the most out of college! I-CARE: College can be a stressful time for students and can, at times, have an impact on a student’s academic performance. Some examples of students who might benefit from I-CARE support include those struggling with depression, suicidal thoughts or actions, thoughts of harming others, repeated classroom disruption, and those exhibiting signs of an eating disorder or threatening behavior. I-CARE can connect students to resources and help students get back on track. For more information or to refer a student, visit icare.tamucc.edu

Class Attendance:
Regular attendance in class can be directly tied to your student’s success. There are many distractions, and at times students don’t see the need to go to class. Faculty set their own attendance policies. Some faculty will not take attendance, while others will deduct points for absences. Students should refer to their course syllabus for information on attendance policies for each class. If a student is going to miss class due to an illness or other situation, students are encouraged to contact their faculty members directly by email as soon as possible.

Absences Due to Extenuating Circumstances:
There are times where extenuating circumstances, such as an extended illness, family emergency, a death in the family or military deployment arise and the student must miss multiple days of school due to the situation. In these cases, it may be difficult for the student to contact their faculty due to the situation (i.e. hospitalization). The Student Assistance Coordinator can assist students/families in this situation when a student is going to miss three or more consecutive days of class. This notification does not excuse the absence; it merely serves as a courtesy notification regarding the student’s situation. The faculty member will still make the decision on individual cases related to any missed work, assignments or test. Documentation must be provided to the Student Assistance Coordinator that supports the reason for the absence. For assistance in these types of situations, students should visit the Student Assistance Coordinator in the office of Student Engagement and Success (University Center 318) or call 361-825-2612. http://seas.tamucc.edu/StudentAssistance.html

Code Blue emergency notification system:
The University’s emergency preparedness begins with making sure students receive messages from the University in the event of an emergency. Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi utilizes a system called Code Blue, which can send emails, texts, and pre-recorded messages to the entire campus at one time. This is vitally important during rapidly changing emergencies including severe weather warnings, threats, school closures, delays, evacuations and other incidents which disrupt regular campus activities. Students are automatically signed up for Code Blue via their information on SAIL. We encourage students to make sure their contact information is updated with the best way to reach them, not just their home or parent’s contact information. It’s vitally important that you are set up to receive information and updates during any emergency. Parents may also register to receive the notifications, by visiting: http://codeblue.tamucc.edu
